

PACIFIC GATEWAY CENTER

Pacific Gateway Center is a non-profit organization that supports immigrants, refugees, and low-income residents many of whom are interested in farming. PGC is pleased to announce its summer program for 2013:

SUCCESS FOR BEGINNING FARMERS

Beginning Farmers learning at Otsuji Farms

Have you ever thought about becoming a farmer, starting and managing your own farm? The Pacific Gateway Center (PGC) invites all interested persons with less than 5 years' experience or no experience but eager to learn to apply for this program.

Training consists of workshops, hands-on learning, conversations with farmers and agricultural specialists beginning June – August 2013. Learn about farming methods, access to land, credit, business plans, food safety, pesticides, organic farming, and much more. Training may be available in Burmese, Chinese, Ilokano, Korean, Lao, Samoan, Tagalog, Thai, Tongan, Vietnamese, and other languages, depending upon enrollment.

Contact Ms. Nuss at (808) 521-7041 or Mrs. Wong at 851-7001 or via email:

terrina@pacificgatewaycenter.org

Deadline to apply is June 13, 2013.

United States
Department of Agriculture

National Institute of Food and Agriculture

Funded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, National Institute of Food and Agriculture, PGC will offer free training to interested individuals.